Test scores low

Honeywell and John Greer student test scores are lower than the state average, with the exception of fourth grade social studies.

Principal Larry Hill said at Thursday's Hoopeston Area school board meeting that scores for third grade reading, math and writing, fourth grade science and sixth grade reading and writing are all below the state average.

Hill said third grade math and writing and sixth grade math scores improved over last year.

Scores for other schools will be available next month, said Superintendent Don Dean.

Dean said one reason for low scores may be the questions, which may have more than one correct answer, which some students may be unfamiliar with. Reading and math scores were lower statewide, he said.
